P.G. Department of Food Science and Technology has organized a seminar on "IELTS and Beyond" in collaboration with IDP International Education on 13-02-2019. The Head of the Department, Dr. Manbir Singh, and Assist. Prof. Dr. Gursharan Kaur officiated the event and Mr. Parminder Singh, Assistant Manager and Mr. Karandeep Rai, Business Development Executive, IDP were resource persons, they acquainted students with the concepts, tips and tricks for IELTS examination. They elaborated that quantum of opportunities add for the Food science students after learning the English language. Some Indians are not quite at home in English and they face various problems due to different accent during studying and working abroad. English is recognized as an official language and it also breaks the barrier at the international level. One can compete at global level to achieve the higher positions in the respective fields in the multicultural nations. Processed food industry is flourishing day by day all over the world with the addition and invention of new technologies and food science students may get benefitted as they have technical knowledge about food but they lack in the communication because of English language barrier. Students actively participated in the question session and exchanged their thoughts with the team about their doubts and fears about English in relation to their career options. The team has showed confidence and satisfied them with the answers of their
